'Pirate Gold' Gives Great Promise

Big Cast Announced For Next Weeks Elaborate PTA Milk Fund Benefit

Ship ahoy! will be the cry resounding through the auditorium of the grammar school next Friday and Saturday evenings, January 20 and 21, when bold bad pirates, glamorous dancing girls and singers shove off in "Pirate Gold," a production presented by the Parent-Teacher Association as a milk fund benefit.

Not in recent years has such much enthusiasm been worked up over a venture of this kind. When many leading male citizens have to be almost chased home after rehearsal, it is proof enough that something "stupendous" is in the offing, and it is said on good authority that all the adjectives in the dictionary including "colossal" fail to do justice to "Pirate Gold."

The production will be divided into two parts, the first consisting of a revue with a variety of specialty numbers, singing, dancing and instrumental numbers, including "My Holiday Girls," sung by Ed McCluskey and a group of girls consisting of Mary Jane Davey, Mary Jane Chatworthy, Roberta Roberts, Alice Dempsey, Bernice Kreitzer, Nellie Gonzales, Armida Gryolva, Geraldine Davis and Chloe A. Knapp.

A dramatic skit, entitled, "How They Say It," will feature Carla Thayer, Jane Colver, Mercer Duff, Don Miller and Eddie Rananahan.

Sure to be enjoyed is a night club scene in "Cafe Parisienne" with Carla Thayer doing the buckaroo, assisted by Hot Footers, Lucille Hoevel, Marion Carleton, Mary Lou Lovejoy, Mary Pulling, Jean Waddell, Sheila Colbert, Geraldine Lloyd and Jean Noshier.

"No, No, a Thousand Times, No," with Gloria Daugherty and Frances Robertson, and a dramatic skit and song number by Don Miller are additional highlights.

Then follows the Second Treasure Chest of Gems on board the Good Ship Jolly Roger, a peppy minstrel show with Donald Thayer as interlocutor and Dave Buchan, Dr. W. H. Scoins, Jack Buchan, Frank Lovell, Francis Eakman and Al Bray as prisoners (end men). Taking the part of bold, bad men will be Ray O. Calkin, Clarence Noshier, Dr. J. P. Donelan, James C. Heasley, Charles Brown and E. D. Robertson.

The crew which forms a circle around the interlocutor consists of Dick Jenkins, Boyd Keith, Roy Davis, Dusty Rhodes, Harold Roberts, Sam Graham, Howard C. Lieben, Mercer Duff, Elmer Pulling, Ed Rananahan, Allen Robertson, Dennie Dempsey and Jim Gingrich.

Four little stowaways will be June Himmann, Phyllis Buchan, Theresa Keys, Lisette Annas, Jeanette Thayer and Lorelie Fontaine. This chorus promises to bring rounds of applause.

This is not a complete cast, inasmuch as there are two other groups yet to be named. These will appear in next week's NEWS. The production this year is much more elaborate and pretentious than anything put on before. There will be many different scenes, the costumes will be more colorful and plus the enthusiasm among the men players, a wonder in itself, something great is bound to happen next Friday and Saturday evenings.

'Seeing Nellie Home' Cost $578.59; Float Praised By Council

"Seeing Nellie Home" — the Wistaria town's entry in the New Year Rose Tournament — cost $578.59, Waverly E. Pratt, chairman of the float committee, reported to the city council Tuesday night. Of this amount 90 Sierra Madre citizens contributed $420.63, leaving a deficit of $157.96.

The council promptly appropriated this amount and then adopted a resolution extending its thanks and congratulations to Pratt and his committee, and Mayor W. J. Schiltz, who supervised construction of the float. It also extended its "appreciation to all those who either contributed money or labor in the construction of the float that enabled the city of Sierra Madre to make such a splendid showing in the Tournament Parade."

Red Cross To Elect Officers; Public Invited To Meeting

Mrs. Esther Chadbourne, field representative of the American Red Cross, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Sierra Madre Chapter at 7:30 p.m., Monday, January 23 in the City Hall.

This will be an open meeting to which all Sierra Madreans are cordially invited. Reports from various committees, office activities and recommendations from the nominating committee for officers for the current year will be in order for the evening's business.

Huge Outlay Planned By Utility

Edison Co. Reports 24,000 New Families In This Area During The Year 1938

Expenditures of approximately $1,225,175 will be made by the Southern California Edison Company in this division of its service territory this year, according to Fred Schwartz, manager for the company here. This local budget is for improvements to the service system, operating expenses and payrolls and is in addition to the taxes the company will pay locally. Mr. Schwartz with A. W. Althouse, division manager, attended the recent annual meeting of Edison Company officers, department heads, and division and district managers in Los Angeles, at which the company's plans for 1939 business development were announced.

Harry J. Bauer, president of the company, W. C. Mullendore, executive vice-president, and Fred B. Lewis, vice-president and general manager, addressed the meeting.

A total expenditure of approximately $26,000,000 will be made by the Edison Company during 1939 in its Southern and Central California territory. This amount is exclusive of bond interest and other payments for the use of capital to be made by the company during the year. The expenditures will be for new construction, to improve and widen the extent of electrical service facilities, operation and maintenance of Edison properties, payrolls and taxes. Approximately $8,000,000 of the total will be paid in taxes during 1939.

In addition to the $1,225,175 allocated for expenditures in the Alhambra division which includes the Alhambra, Pasadena, Sierra Madre, Monrovia and North Hollywood districts, this portion of the Edison Company system will be directly benefited by the general system-wide activities and betterments to be made during 1939.

Reports of officers and department heads at the annual meeting on the business of the Edison Company during the past year, reflect the steady growth of the communities of which the company is a part. During 1938 the company added approximately 24,000 new meters to its system, bringing the total of active meters to 536,000. This gain of 24,000 meters is equivalent to a city of approximately 75,000 population.

Reviews of company operations also showed that during 1938, Edison's 450,000 domestic consumers used an average of approximately 950 kilowatt hours of electrical service. This compares with 910 kilowatt hours for 1937, 807 kilowatt hours for 1936 and 560 kilowatt hours ten years ago. The national average in 1937 was 805 kilowatt hours.

Plans for the energetic continuation of the company's present business development program were outlined at the annual meeting. There is, it was pointed out at the meeting, a much more general expectation of better business now than at the beginning of 1938. The company's domestic sales department and industrial sales department have a program calling for greater production than was recorded in 1938 and it is anticipated that efforts of these departments will benefit business generally.

City's Newest Market is Thrown Open

Formal Introduction of Spic and Span New Establishment Today

Bright bouquets of flowers from well-wishers graced the counters of the new Sierra Madre Market at 58 W. Sierra Madre boulevard yesterday when the spic and span new store was thrown open to the public, with the formal opening scheduled for today.

It is an immaculate, modern market, with a fresh stock of the nationally known foods, under the management of John Spoelstra and Leo Cullum, well-known local residents. Mr. Spoelstra was formerly manager of the Sierra Madre boulevard Safeway store until his transfer to the Monrovia store two years ago. He will have charge of the grocery department. Mr. Cullum who managed the Safeway meat department and later Young's Market, is in charge of the meat department. Ed Spoelstra is taking over things in the fruit and vegetable department.

The interior is finished in white, with the different departments conveniently arranged. Fruits and vegetables are in front, the well stocked grocery department at the back, and the meat market is at the side. Practically all equipment was furnished and installed by Dell Smith Distributing Company of Los Angeles and includes what is said to be the last word in the way of a refrigerating plant.

The policy of the new market is to offer the finest food available at the lowest prices. The new market's first interesting advertisement will be found on page 8.

Bank Loans Reveal Plans For Many More Homes Here

In line with the high upswing of building in the city R. C. Lewis, president of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank, announced yesterday that construction loans during the past six month period have risen steadily and many more new homes are contemplated here.

"Loans have increased about $60,000 over last year. Part of this amount is in commercial loans, but approximately $50,000 was for financing new homes," Mr. Lewis reported.

"Occasionally we get an inquiry for a loan on out-of-town property but we just don't make it because our depositors are Sierra Madreans and we think we should use the money to finance local improvements," he added.

And talking about improvements the bank is doing its bit to make Sierra Madre boulevard easy on the eyes. A fresh coat of paint on the outside of the bank building does wonders, and when contemplated refinishing of inside fixtures, painting the walls and woodwork and remodeling is done, the bank will be the brightest spot in the block. An Acousti-Celotex ceiling to minimize noise is another new feature that will be part of the newly-decorated bank.

Edison Franchise Scented As Source Of City Revenue

Sierra Madre's city attorney, Walter Dunn, was instructed by the city council Tuesday evening to "look into the matter of a franchise for the Edison Company," here with the idea of finding some revenue.

"I learned that many other communities are getting revenue from these franchises," said Councilman Tom Schwartz, "and I move that the city attorney inquire into the various acts of the legislature, especially those of more recent years, with the idea of ascertaining the possibilities, and that he report back to the council at the first meeting in February. The city gets nothing from the company now but I understand the Edison Company is willing to pay what it considers a proper revenue."

Noted Educator To Address Local PTA January 26

The January P.T.A. meeting has been changed from January 19 to January 26 at 8 o'clock, to give right-of-way to "Pirate Gold," to be presented at the school auditorium next Friday afternoon.

Dr. Lillian M. Vaughan, professor of economics and sociology, on leave from Boston University, will speak on the technique of the "Living Together in the Home." A speaker of much experience and success before many New England clubs, Dr. Vaughan, who served as a national education association delegate to the World Education Conference at Oxford, England, in 1935, has been warmly welcomed by California Federation of Women's Clubs. The public is cordially invited to hear her here.

Building Of Fire Trail Assured

City's Application For Added Fire Protection Wins Forestry Support

Definite action by the forestry service on a resolution sent by the city council to the U. S. secretary of agriculture and to forestry department heads last month asking for a fire truck trail from northern city limits to Mt. Wilson quarter-way house, appeared imminent this week when letters of encouragement from S. B. Snow, regional forest director; Congressman Carl Hinshaw and William Mendenhall, Angeles forest service supervisor, were read at Tuesday's council meeting.

The latest communication from Snow's office informed the council that Mendenhall has been asked to have one of his men contact the council and together delineate the section upon a forestry map, in order to determine whether or not the road proposed is one of those already planned or whether it is a new one.

Congressman Carl Hinshaw in a letter dated January 5, stated that he had written to F. A. Silcox, Chief, U. S. Forestry Service, recommending that favorable action be taken on the matter.

Mendenhall concurred with the council's recommendation that such a trail would be a "very desirable fire protection improvement," but said his department has "lacked sufficient road funds to construct many miles of major roadways that are needed."

"But in the near future we will have our forestry engineer make a further investigation as to the possibilities of this route proposed," he added, "and also furnish us with some estimate of the cost of it so that we can include it as an important part of the final appropriation that will be available for new road construction."

The resolution, conceived and prepared by Councilman Paul Carter, explained that construction of such a trail through dense forest growth in the foothill area would lessen the danger of fire damage, making water available to the area in the event of a conflagration.

City Loses Services of Burbank

To Be Succeeded On Library Board By William L. Burr

After 11 years of painstaking service, during most of which he acted as chairman of the finance committee, E. D. Burbank resigned this week as a member of the Sierra Madre Public Library board of directors, effective at once. Accepting his resignation with deep regret, his colleagues elected William L. Burr, Sierra Madre representative of the Southern California Edison Co., as his successor. Mr. Burr's selection was unanimously approved by the city council Tuesday evening.

Mr. Burbank's term does not expire until June 30 but inasmuch as he plans to leave in June for Laguna Beach and the budget is made up in about a month later, he felt his successor, should have time in which to become familiar with the work. For this reason he retired now.

Reviewing the work of his committee during the past 11 years Mr. Burbank declared that the board has always lived within its budget, and finances at the local library have always been in good shape.

"The board's policy of careful finances weathered the depression and came through in excellent style," Mr. Burbank said. "We are spending the same amount now on new books as we were before the depression. Throughout the past hard years we have bought books, while many libraries were forced to cut down."

Tax Money Begins To Flow Into City's Treasury

A check for $21,194.13 was received by City Clerk Waverly Pratt last week as the county's first installment on the 1938-39 first-half tax collection. The current annual total due amounts to $62,701.

Of the amount received, $17,000 is earmarked for city expenditure, $3,854 goes into the special canyon assessment district fund; $251 will go toward retiring the swimming pool bonds, while $140 is tabbed for the weed cleaning fund.

According to City Engineer Samuel Graham's report to the city council, $3,209 is the amount to be allocated from the county's gas tax collections. The city is at present determining how the money should be spent, and a resolution of such intention will be forwarded to the Board of Supervisors. It is required that the money shall be spent only for street improvements.

Chain Thief In Jail Wonders Whether Crime Really Pays

Imagine the surprise of A. E. O'Banion when he passed a second hand store and pawn shop in East Pasadena and glancing in, saw the chain hoist and log chains that were stolen from his yard at 337 Camillo street, November 23.

He was so certain they were his that he called for an investigation, as a result of which David Amaya, 101½ Kincaid street, Pasadena, will sit in the county jail for 60 days. His partner in crime is still at large. The bulky articles were carried from the yard to a machine and then taken to their new home at the second hand store until recognized by O'Banion. Judge Tom Neale pronounced sentence Tuesday morning.

Reports Make Congregation Very Happy

Ascension Membership Continues To Grow, Debts Paid and Money Left Over

Members of the Church of the Ascension congregation were happy at the annual meeting Tuesday evening when the treasurer's report, read by Thomas Meader, showed receipts during 1938 of over $4,000, all assessments to the diocese paid and a substantial balance in the treasury for repairs.

Dr. W. B. Heagerty, rector, gave a statistical report of his official acts which showed an increase in membership, the communicants now numbering 173 and the total congregation 234.

Miss Daisy Hawks and Miss Edna Green made the reports for the Woman's Guild; Mrs. Bowler and Mrs. Lynn Anderson for St. Catherine's Guild, and Mrs. Elmer Pulling for the Church school. Reports were also given for the Altar Guild and the Choir Guild.

The vestry elected for the year consists of C. Fred Vanner, senior warden; Elmer Pulling, junior warden; Samuel L. Graham, clerk; Thomas Meader, treasurer; Clarence Noshier, Jedney Davis, and Arthur Wilson, vestrymen.

Delegates elected to represent the parish at the two yearly convocations were W. Jarvis Barlow, Arthur Wilson, J. E. Davis, Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Miss Marion Vanner and Miss Daisy Hawks.

City Compromises Another Central Ave. Extension Suit

Last of the suits against Sierra Madre growing out of the original Central avenue extension project, as proposed under the Mattoon act many years ago, was ordered settled by the city council Tuesday when it adopted a resolution authorizing payment of $301.20 to the Title Insurance and Trust Co. The company had filed suit for $2358.50 for services rendered. It agreed to compromise on the percentage basis fixed in compromise of the suit of Henry Gerlich, former city engineer who mapped the proposed but never undertaken project because the city rose in protest against what it believed an excessive cost. Gerlich sued for $14,275.72 for services rendered prior to 1928. His assignees compromised for $2,250, which the present city council ordered paid some time ago.

The former Central avenue, now Sierra Madre boulevard was later extended through the Hastin's ranch and into Pasadena without any cost whatsoever to the city.

Traffic Violation Draws Fine

Datus Clark Thew, 70 Windor Lane, appeared before Judge Tom Neale Wednesday morning, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25, $15 of which was suspended. Thew was convicted of traffic violation, in driving on the wrong side of the street, December 20, when the car he drove while delivering papers collided with that of William Carleton, 73 West Laurel avenue, at Park avenue and Sierra Madre blvd. Carleton and the occupants of his car suffered bruises and shock.

Elect Mrs. Solomon President Of The Garden Club

Mrs. R. W. Solomon was unanimously elected president of the Sierra Madre Garden Club at the organization's annual meeting at Wistaria Vine Gardens Monday evening.

Mrs. W. J. Lawless was re-elected vice president and Hubert Passage, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. A. R. (Peg) Jewell was reappointed program chairman and Mrs. W. S. Hull as librarian. Monthly meetings hereafter will be held the second Monday of each month. The February program will be devoted to a discussion of iris and water gardens.

City To Urge Paving Of Dirt Streets

Aid Of Property Owners Sought While Materials Cost Lowest In History

With cost of road building materials reported the lowest in history, Sierra Madre's city council has decided on a determined effort to secure co-operation of property owners in the paving of all the unpaved streets in the city and at Tuesday evening's council meeting the engineering department was directed to inquire into the possibility of making contracts with material companies to take advantage of these low prices. It was also to prepare charts showing the cost to property holders on the various affected thoroughfares of paving their frontage.

Council decided on a vigorous selling campaign—to sell the idea of improving these streets to the owners of the affected property. Local real estate dealers and outside real estate experts believe the value of every 50 foot lot on every unpaved street would immediately increase about $200, and serve as a great stimulus to the active building campaign now going on here.

It is proposed to include all of the streets in a WPA project to get underway during the spring months with the property owners paying for the cost of materials and the WPA to furnish the labor.

The engineering department submitted a statement to the council showing, under the arrangement indicated above, what it would cost a lineal foot to pave the various dirt streets. The cost varied somewhat on different streets. The average was given as one and one-tenth cents a square foot for paving materials; 22 cents per lineal foot for curbing and nine cents per square foot for sidewalks.

To clarify this statement, William H. Schwartz of the engineering department said, "For example, if you owned a 50-foot frontage on Mariposa avenue between Lama and Hermosa streets, it would cost approximately $40 for the material to install curbs, sidewalk and pave the street. Using the material costs given above as a base, property owners may estimate for themselves the approximate cost to them of street paving, curbs and sidewalks."

While the council is anxious to see both the street and sidewalks paved, its immediate objective is to have the streets paved and it will not insist on the sidewalks if such insistence would in any way interfere with the paving program.

The engineering department has been working for some days on the estimated labor that would be required on the project and the council will at once begin a vigorous campaign among affected property owners. Literature is being prepared showing every affected citizen exactly what the cost to him. This will be distributed at once and a series of conferences will be held in the city hall.

In anticipation of the paving project getting underway the city approved a contract for the rental of a caterpillar tractor. The total cost of the machine if the city elects to buy it within a year will be $2,804, with a discount of $123 if the outright purchase is made prior to May 14.

Message from China To Be Heard Here Sunday Morning

A message from China will be heard at 11 o'clock services Sunday morning at the Congregational Church when Rev. Josepa Taylor, D. D. of the Union University, Cheng Tu, West China, will speak. He has been in that war torn country for over 30 years in an institution supported by northern Baptists in America, English Quakers and the United Church of Canada.

In student days Dr. Taylor was a roommate of Rev. Arthur O. Pritchard at Brown University. He is spending the winter at Pilgrim Place, Claremont.

City Now A Part Of Monrovia Township

Sierra Madre ceased to be a part of Pasadena township on the first Monday of this year. For legal purposes it became a part of the new first class Monrovia township, along with Arcadia and Temple City. Judge John A. H. Sturgeon of Monrovia, law partner of Walter Dunn, Sierra Madre's city attorney, presides over the township. Civil law cases involving up to $1,000 will now be handled in Judge Sturgeon's justice court together with high grade misdemeanors.

Addition of Sierra Madre and Arcadia raises Monrovia from the second to the first class. It extends east to include a part of Glendora. It also includes Monrovia, Duarte, Arcadia, portions of Tempe City and Charter Oak. Not then a part of the new township, Sierra Madre participated in the election of a Justice of the Peace at the last November election.

Kiwianians Hear How Prosecutor Goes After Criminals

Intricate workings of a district attorney's office were disclosed to Kiwanians Tuesday when Bob Hunt of the Bureau of Investigation, came over from Pasadena to reveal the routine detail of justice chasing a criminal. Mr. Hunt, from the Pasadena branch office, discussed the ways that complaints are handled by his department, which deals with state violations, or felony charges.

He amused listeners with humorous incidents that occur in his work, stating that they are the safety valves in the grim business of punishing individuals and indirectly, their parents, wives and friends.

Slices of balogna were passed out among members, with the compliments of Fred Schleifer, who was welcomed as a Kiwanian by Rudy Hartman. Among the club guests was John FitzGerald, Sierra Madre attorney.

Announcement was made of the initial girls' and boys' basketball games, the girls playing Thursday evenings and the boys Monday and Wednesday evenings.

Captain E. G. Everett was elected to fill the vacancy on the board of directors caused by resignation of Harry Lange, now residing in Arcadia.

Sierra Madre Poet Wins Recognition With Two Poems

Leslie B. Wynne, one of Sierra Madre's poets, was signally honored when two of his poems were selected for representation in national anthologies being edited by Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney. "In a Garden, Crisscross and Gold," was chosen for inclusion in "Eros," a love poem anthology edited by Lucia Trent, and "Poet's Confession," will appear in "Sonnetts," which Ralph Cheyney is editing.

The books will be published by Henry Harrison, New York.

During the social evening which followed, William Crolley, formerly organist at Trinity church in New York, delighted his hearers with an impromptu piano program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dewey, assisted by Mrs. Leslie B. Wynne, Mrs. Elmer M. Weese and Mrs. R. L. Fitzwilliams.

SIERRA MADRE GIRLS GO IN FOR BASKETBALL AS THEIR TEAMS ARE BEING ORGANIZED

Ambitions plans for the 1939 season were made last evening at the gymnasium of the Congregational Church when sports-minded girls met en masse to form basketball teams under the direction of the Kiwanis club, with Charles W. Kinnear as leader.

Out of the practice play, teams were selected for competition, with St. Rita's, the Congregational Church and the grammar school making up teams. Instead of the regulation ten girl team, the local club decided to place 12 girls on a team, thus relieving undue fatigue and strain on the players and giving the girls more rest periods.

As was the case last year players on each team will be rotated from one position to another, enabling each girl to become familiar with all positions. This procedure gives the individual excellent experience as an all around player rather than restricting her to a certain position throughout the season.

Wednesday evenings have been tentatively set for the older boys' basketball practice, with Monday evenings reserved for the younger boys. Roy H. Pickett and William Burr are in charge of these teams. Announcement of lineups of the various teams will be made later, together with schedules. Thursday evening will be given over to the girls.

Schiltz' Renew Wedding Vows On Their Silver Anniversary; Find Parish Hall Filled For Party In Their Honor

Mayor and Mrs. W. J. Schiltz renewed their marriage vows at St. Rita's Church at the 8:30 o'clock mass Saturday morning, January 7, on the silver anniversary of their wedding. Rev. Alan Prendergast, C.P., officiated, with only the immediate family present: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Twedell, of Sierra Madre; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mayer, of Monrovia, and Misses Marie and Mary Rita Schiltz of Sierra Madre. Arthur, only member of the family unable to attend the wedding ceremony, is attending college at the Passionist Seminary in Normandy, Mo.

Mrs. Peter Thill played the wedding march and other numerous selections, while her son, Jerome, assisted as altar boy. As far as the participants were concerned, the celebration was completed after the wedding breakfast, except for the plans of dining and a theatre party for the couple in the evening. However, contrary to their plans, after much scheming by members of the family, they were finally taken to the Parish Hall where hundreds of business associates, city officials and employees, friends from South Dakota as well as local friends, were patiently waiting to wish them many more happy years of wedded life. During the celebration, after regaining their poise, they took the floor and danced a lively waltz which would test many a young couple's skill.

After an hour or two of merriment, the celebrants decided it was in order to acknowledge their appreciation of the gathering that welcomed and wished them well, so they took the floor and Mr. Schiltz in his calm and easy way related how on their wedding day back in Emery, S.D., 25 years ago, they went to church early in the morning, the temperature being 35° below zero.

Upon their arrival in California on their honeymoon the groom was disappointed in not finding any sunshine, but his bride, who had previously visited the sunny land tried to assure him that all would be well. They decided to visit relatives in Sierra Madre and the evening was spent by the fireside. Next morning they were awakened by the sun shining through the cracks of the boards. He en-

Sierra Madre Poets To Read Own Works At Wistaria Vine

Lovers of poetry and patrons of the arts in general are looking forward to an evening of special interest at the Wistaria Vine Gardens Sunday evening when two of Sierra Madre's outstanding poets will give readings from their later creations.

The poetry of Majella Green (Mrs. I. F. Peterson) is already well known and widely admired. Sunday evening she will present a group of poems.

The other poet who will be heard gives Sierra Madre a complete novelty although his poetry has already been known in at least three European countries, and in as many languages. This is W. Jarvis Barlow, Jr., who but recently has resumed

Ten years passed by and to the very day the family arrived here and immediately established themselves as Sierra Madre residents.

The mayor graciously thanked all for being present and also for the lovely individual gifts, and the generous luncheon. Since then the couple has received a handsome floor lamp, from all the reception guests.

Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.—Hebrews vii.

A VITAL DEFECT

There is undoubtedly merit in the bill offered at Sacramento by the new senator from Los Angeles county, former Judge Robert W. Kenny, proposing to have the voters of California cast their ballots by mail. Kenny believes it would result in a larger vote being cast than under the present system which requires voters to go to a precinct polling place on election day. Kenny's bill would abolish polling places and election boards. The registrar of voters would mail a pair of official ballots to each registered voter three weeks prior to an election. They would go out as registered mail, assuring their delivery only to the voter for whom they were intended. The voter would have two weeks in which to mark his ballot, and return it by mail to the registrar of voters. The two ballots would be sent so that the voter would have a second chance if he made a mistake in marking the first one. It would be a felony to send in two ballots.

Admittedly the cost of the proposed system would be somewhat higher than the present one, but if its adoption resulted in bringing out a fuller expression of the public will, that could not be held as a vital defect. But there is a vital defect. It lies in the fact that the secrecy of the ballot would be destroyed, for on the flap of the envelope containing the ballot mailed by the voter to the registrar, the voter would be obliged to sign his name and give his address. It required many years of constant agitation to secure a system that guaranteed the voter that only he would know for whom and what his ballot had been cast. But this would follow striking down this secrecy, it seems to us, would far overcome any possible improvement proposed in the Kenny measure.

FINDING IT OUT

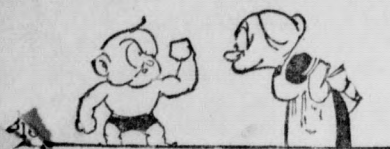

Many oil companies advertise the price of gasoline in this fashion: "Gas, 15 cents a gallon; state and federal tax, 6 cents; total, 21 cents."

If similar methods of illustrating the price of all products were employed, the American consumer would get the shock of his life.

When you buy a five-dollar pair of shoes, a dollar or more is for taxes. When you pay a three-dollar electric bill, 50 or 60 cents represents taxes. When you buy a forty-dollar suit, close to ten dollars goes for taxes.

You can't dodge taxation—unless you're a hermit living in the hills. On a normal day, you pay taxes a dozen times, though you may not know it—when you drive your car, ride a trolley, eat lunch, or make a purchase. When the American people get this truth through their heads, there will be a drive for economy in government that will get somewhere. For ignorance of the fact is a wasteful government's best friend.

The Marriage Problem

By J. DASKAM BACON

Author of "The Madness of Philip," "The Inheritance," etc.

Homemaking Must Be Raised to the Level of Other Professions

LONG before fifty years it will, I am sure, have dawned upon the average man that the chief source of difficulty in marriage as it works out today is not emotional, nor religious, nor hygienic—it is purely economic.

I say the "chief source," because no human relation is so simple as to admit of but one difficulty or to require but one remedy. As the most intimate of voluntarily assumed relationships, marriage will always retain its fixed proportion of unavoidable risk, unavoidable complication, unavoidable error. Therefore, I feel that it is a waste of time to theorize over the emotional problems, which can never be settled sex by sex, so to speak, but must inevitably be adjusted couple by couple.

The hygienic problems, with the contingent issue of rational birth control, can be settled no more quickly than the steady growth of popular education permits, and will be solved precisely as soon as would be safe, in all probability. Judging by the growing and intelligent interest in everything that pertains to health and sanitation, with special stress on vitality and longevity, I would say that this would take care of itself.

The religious problems, for the great mass of Anglo-Saxon civilization, no longer exist, in practical fact.

Feeling, as I do, that of these aspects of marriage the emotional can never be settled, the hygienic is on the way to being settled, and the religious has been settled, I now turn to the most important aspect of all for the woman of the Twentieth century—the economic.

This situation is not at all emotional and does not present the complications of individual vagaries. Though all the conditions are ripe for adjusting it, and though everybody's mind should be by now prepared for it, though we are being steadily pushed to it, the public mind is not engaged upon it as it is in the hygienic field. It has not been politically retained as a gesture and preserved for its traditional and sentimental uses; on the contrary, it is violently resented and increasingly questioned.

And so it is clear that I believe that nothing about us will seem more absurd than the fact that while we babble continually about the inestimable value of a wife and homemaker, she is actually worth whatever her husband felt like giving her!

It would seem idiotic to her that a successful, independent wage-earner should suddenly turn into a sort of ward, dependent upon whatever her guardian felt he could spare her for pocket money.

No one has ever contended that the American husband is not generous; he is probably the most generous husband on earth, man for man. But each one of the steadily increasing number of wage-earning women (and today every girl feels herself a potential wage-earner) looks with a certain uneasy wonder at a future partnership when the conscience of the junior partner or vice president or managing director or executive secretary seems likely to prick her if she lays any definite claim to any personal income that goes much beyond board and clothes and legitimate expenses connected with entertaining.

The lucky wage-earner who can continue to pursue her career at home after marriage has long ago settled this question. Thoughtful women are even now considering very seriously whether some arrangement of part-time work, lightening of domestic responsibilities by various community activities, along the lines of day nurseries, food service, etc., cannot be made to give a little freedom to the wife who willingly relinquishes her old independence for family life, but who wonders if she must give up ten-tenths of it. I think we shall see this problem solved in the fairly near future.

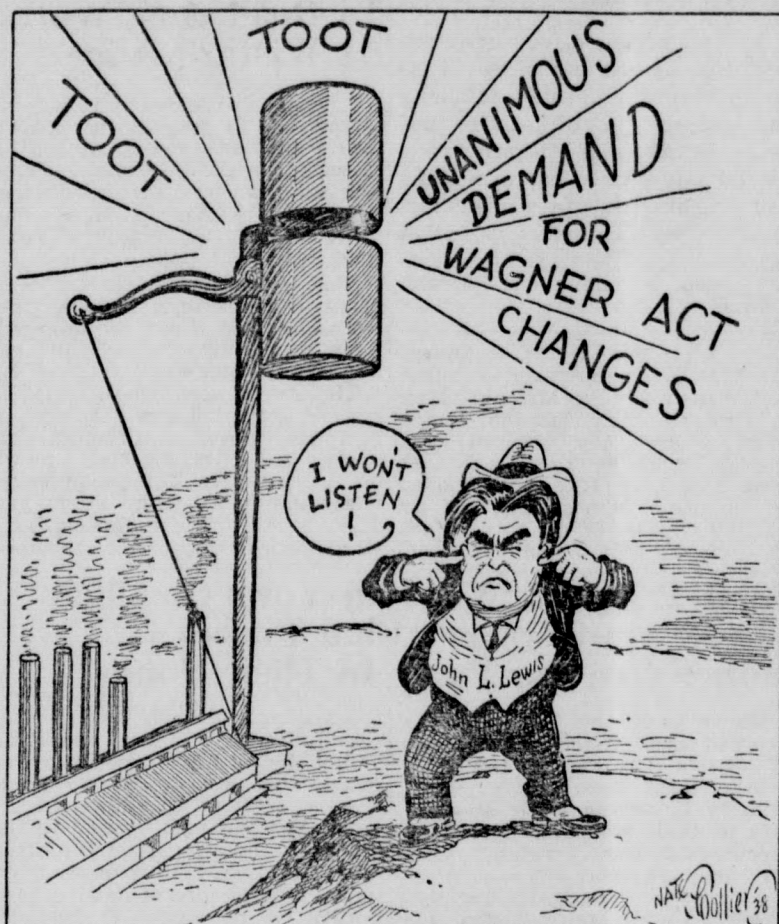

But it may take 50 years before the great mass of women who do nothing at all but the work that all men tell them is the greatest of all, can hope to receive, as automatically as the government receives the income tax, their obvious salary: a fixed proportion of their husband's income.

Obviously, before receiving it, they must qualify for it, and this may surprise and vex a great many of them. But if they were certain of the salary you may be sure they would take a course of household economics, budgeting and child care as readily as they study stenography.

And if men want homes a hundred years from now they must raise home-making to the level of the other professions open to women.

THE ONLY ONE

Canada is a dominion. It is a neighbor of the United States. Not least of all, it is the birthplace and home of the Dionne quintuplets. Therefore it is not hard to imagine the amazement and disappointment in the hearts of Canadians, now that they have just discovered that the King and Queen of England omitted a visit to the quintos on their itinerary for next summer's visit to Canada. The French Canadians, in particular, are apt to feel less assimilated than ever, although demands for self-determination of the French-Canadian minority is not immediately likely. Nevertheless, there is more than pride and prejudice to excuse their disappointment. There is the fact that the five celebrated little women are officially wards of the King! That makes a visit to Callander, Ontario, imperative—to French Canadians, at least!

A once deep scar on American life is being healed. From the Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, which has kept a record of the victims of mob law for more than fifty years, comes the report that in 1898 only six lynchings occurred, all of them involving Negroes, and all of them in the deep South. This is two less than in 1937, three less than in 1936, and 14 less than in 1935. It is 100 less than it was at the turn of the century! A more hopeful sign was that officers of the law in 42 instances intervened to prevent lynchings, whereas in many former years enforcement officials have too often connived at mob violence or failed to intervene and halt it.

Education has a mammoth task confronting it, figures from the United States Office of Education reveal. That department's survey found that fifty per cent of the world's population is unable to read or write. In numbers, that places the size of this earth's legions of illiterates at somewhat over one billion persons. To most of us, this appears to be woeful lack. Mass education is a precept with us, and in this State we require every child to master not only reading and writing, but to take 12 years of formal schooling. Yet only a few centuries ago, the ability to write even their own names was a gift known to few people, and monarchs were known to boast of their inability to read. The percentage of illiteracy in the United States is only 4.3 per cent.

Although San Gabriel came away from the Rose Tournament with only a third prize, residents of that city led by the Chamber of Commerce are arranging a victory dinner in honor of the "most outstanding float in the history of the city."

Bidding for more unfavorable publicity, Arcadia continues its bitter political warfare and legal notice has been given that a petition calling for the recall of its mayor and another member of the city council will be circulated. The recall notice was signed by six men and three women and one of the men, sensing the harmful effect of continuous recall elections has asked to be allowed to withdraw his signature on the ground that he acted hastily.

Monrovia don't agree with many Sierra Madre citizens who refer to cocos plumosa palms as "feather dusters" and lacking in ornamental beauty. The city has purchased and is about to plant rows of cocos plumosas on either side of Huntington Drive, from Fifth to Shamrock avenues. A meeting will be held tomorrow night at which property holders will be asked to contribute a sum sufficient to guarantee continuous care of the palms.

Assemblymen Appreciate Obligation

District's New Legislator Senses This In Their Vote On Big Relief Bill

By T. FENTON KNIGHT
Assemblyman, 48th District

Conservative members of the Assembly failed in their effort to limit the appropriation for emergency relief voted at Friday's session to an amount sufficient to carry on to April 1st of this year. The amendment to reduce the administration bill calling for $19,975,000 for unemployment relief to finish out the current biennium ending June 30th to $11,750,000 was defeated by the narrow margin of 39 to 36. The fact that the bill was finally adopted by unanimous consent is conclusive evidence that every member of the Assembly has a sense of duty to see that no one in distress shall suffer for want of consideration from the State. The members were, however, divided as to the advisability of making an appropriation at this time to care for such needs beyond April 1st of this year, on the ground that it would give both the new State Relief Administration and the Legislators more time in which to study this vital problem.

Following the show of Democratic strength on Monday when Paul Peek of Long Beach was elected Speaker of the Assembly on strictly party lines, the membership has gradually divided itself into two groups—one of which represents the more conservative element, with the other sponsoring more extreme legislation.

Following the usual routine of electing the speaker, and other officers of the Assembly, both houses gathered in the Assembly hall to pay respects to the new Governor. Before the inaugural ceremonies took place, a flower bedecked donkey was carried to the rostrum and Governor-elect Olson was escorted into the auditorium to the strains of "Sweet Sings the Donkey as He Goes to Hay," played by an orchestra brought in for the occasion. The Assembly Chamber in the State Capitol was entirely inadequate to accommodate the crowd that gathered to participate in the so-called public hearing prior to the pardoning of Tom Mooney Saturday morning. Some members of the Legislature who were not in sympathy with this act of the Governor expressed their protest by not attending the ceremony.

TWIN PROBLEMS ARE VITALLY IMPORTANT TO EVERY CITIZEN

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

TWO of the most critical problems confronting the 1939 State Legislature—of fundamental significance because they affect, directly, hundreds of thousands of people and, indirectly, every citizen in the State—are the twin problems of old age pensions and unemployment relief.

Complicating the situation, both problems have become "causes," with the groups most directly affected—elderly citizens and the vast army of unemployed—fighting with almost religious fervor for more generous treatment at the hands of government. And unfortunately when emotion enters in, reason and sound economics all too often fly out the window. Any legislator or State official, viewing a pitiful delegation of men and women in their seventies, petitioning the Legislature for bigger and better pensions—even though the amount asked be "$30 Every Thursday," or "$25 Every Tuesday"—is inevitably affected. His reaction may be an impulse to disregard where the money is to come from and vote more liberal pensions. Or it may be indignation against the professional organizers who take dimes and pennies from needy old folks to finance Utopian pension movements which are foredoomed to failure. But whatever his reaction, it is likely to be emotional—for what was once a problem has been dramatized and is now a "cause." With unemployment relief, the same condition exists. To the underprivileged, the unemployed, the unemployables and those who wish no employment, Governor Olson is "their Governor"; they "elected him"—at least they are confident they did—and Governor Olson is expected to wave a magic wand, or, perhaps, send a message to the Legislature, which will end all their difficulties.

That is the situation which confronted the State Legislature when it convened in Sacramento nearly two weeks ago. And it still confronts the Legislature—with the probability that relief and pensions will be two of the major issues of the session. Whether sound economics and straight-thinking will resolve the issues in the final analysis—or whether emotions and wishful thinking will dominate—still remains to be determined. But there are at least a few hopeful signs that reason will prevail and that California will be saved from a reckless spending spree that would only double and treble the distress and despair that were born of depression.

That is the situation which confronted the State Legislature when it convened in Sacramento nearly two weeks ago. And it still confronts the Legislature—with the probability that relief and pensions will be two of the major issues of the session. Whether sound economics and straight-thinking will resolve the issues in the final analysis—or whether emotions and wishful thinking will dominate—still remains to be determined. But there are at least a few hopeful signs that reason will prevail and that California will be saved from a reckless spending spree that would only double and treble the distress and despair that were born of depression.

Governor Olson, in his inaugural message, indicated that he recognized the calamity which would befall California if this State, due to emotional and unsound pension legislation, should become a haven for the old and destitute from every section of the Nation. Admittedly friendly to the pension movement, he nonetheless sounded this warning:

"California has more than matched the small amount ($15 per month) provided for such (pension) eligibles by the Federal Government to make a total of $35 per month. This amount, however inadequate, is more liberal than that paid by any other State. . . . Old age pensions must be furnished by those who are producing and the machinery of production. Public support of the old or the young can only be furnished by taxation in one form or another."

"When other states fail to provide aid for their aged, equal to ours, it may naturally be expected that their citizens approaching the eligible age will seek residence here. This places a disproportionate share of the tax for this worthy social purpose upon our state. For the purpose of uniformity, it is necessary that old age pensions, in their entirety, be financed by the Federal Government. We shall continue to urge an adequate Federal old age security program. Meantime we shall favor State aid for pensions to the aged to the limit that State finances will permit. The limit, however, because of the tax necessary for present unemployment relief, may for a time at least be nearly reached."

On relief, Governor Olson suggested "a new policy of placing the unemployed at productive work to support themselves"—in other words, production-for-use cooperatives. In that, there are two major obstacles which the Governor and the State must consider realistically. Delhi and Durham Land Colonies failed to the tune of millions; there is little reason to believe that production-for-use projects would do better. And there is the further problem of handling the output of production-for-use (State subsidized) colonies so that it would not come into competition with the products of California farmers, who have no benefit of State subsidy and who would be helping to foot the bill for the production-for-use experiments.

Troublesome problems are these twin problems of unemployment relief and old age pensions—and the best that California taxpayers generally can hope is that the Governor and the Legislature will cope with them realistically, rather than emotionally.

...we bought a 1939 automatic gas water heater!

It isn't likely that you've ever counted the number of times hot water is required by your family in a day. But it's a known fact that the average family turns on the "hot" faucet a hundred times or more.

That's why a modern automatic gas water heater is almost as necessary as water itself. It gives you all the hot water you need, any time, without attention.

And it saves money. By heating water faster, it cuts down the period during which fuel is used. It eliminates the expense and discomfort of over heating, too, because the temperature is thermostatically controlled. In addition, it brings you the rock-bottom economy of natural gas.

Lectures On Christian Science

Large Audience Hears
Talk On Healing Power Of Spiritual Understanding

A large audience heard a lecture on Christian Science by George Channing, C.S.B., of San Francisco, in the grammar school auditorium Tuesday evening. His lecture was entitled, "Christian Science: The Healing Power of Spiritual Understanding." Mr. Channing is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

If you and I were asked at this moment by the Power capable of satisfying our every request to name the thing that we most desire, there should be no more reluctance or confusion in our thought than there appeared to be in the thought of Solomon, the new, young King of Israel, whose wise reply to that question is recorded in the Bible in the third chapter of the first book of Kings. "Give me, O Lord," he said, "an understanding heart."

The correctness of this request, the reason why it was fulfilled, and the additional blessings it brought to Solomon so long as he was true to his spiritual promptings, are significant in the hint they give of the true way to pray to God. It takes wisdom to ask for wisdom, and Solomon in asking for it, was, in the degree that he discerned the spiritual nature of his own being and asking to see more of that nature. This brought him, as Bible readers will remember, the commendation of God, which remained with him so long as he was true to his high ideal. "Behold," said the heavenly Father, "I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart." And the divine Spirit further explained that because Solomon had not asked for riches and honor, nor to have his enemies destroyed, but had asked for the one true thing, he was to have all of these other things as the effect of his right desire; and if he would but serve God truly he was also to have long life in which to serve Him.

The Purpose and Effect of Prayer

You and I, in our search for full, rich, satisfying and useful lives, will do well to remember the lessons of that narrative and to utilize them with even greater fidelity than Solomon continued to do after he had grown older on the throne of Israel. The first and most important of these lessons is that the purpose of true prayer is always to gain wisdom and to utilize spiritual understanding, or the understanding of divine Spirit, God. And the second is that the effect of such prayer, when its purpose is attained, is always seen in improved human experience. Centuries after Solomon had succeeded in illustrating these great truths in some degree, Christ Jesus, the divine son of God, stated the rule in all its perfection and demonstrated it in flawless practice. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and all these things," he urged, "shall be added unto you" (Matthew 6:33). And years after that, in the fullness of God's own time for mankind's discernment of Christ Jesus' complete meaning, came Christian Science, through its divinely inspired discoverer, founder, and revelator, Mary Baker Eddy, proclaiming that it is unselfish love, a spiritual understanding of God, that constitutes the prayer that heals the sick and reforms the sinner.

The Bible Unfolds True Concept

Sometimes there are those who would deny the Bible and the God it presents, and rule them out of their own affairs and those of others. Sometimes there are those who question the meaning of the Bible but try to accept it only as a narrative of historical fact. Sometimes there are those who question not at all, but are nevertheless holding to mistaken interpretations of its meaning. To any and all of these and to the world in which they live, Christian Science comes with the greatest message of this age to men. It is not an exhortation or a plea for sentimentalism, based on a hope that some power may by chance observe and reward. It is a straightforward, direct, scientific message that your conceptions of Deity will control your experience.

Healing Proves God's Love

Healing is not physical. It is the manifestation of the love of God restored in consciousness. What appear to human sense as

Sisters Separated For 32 Years Have Reunion Here

For 32 years Mrs. C. E. Trimbel, 658 Mariposa avenue, and her sister, Mrs. Nina Waltenberg, had not seen each other, so they decided to do something about it. They did, and Sierra Madre was the scene of a happy reunion over the holiday season when Mrs. Waltenberg came down from her home in Bremerton, Wash., to be with her sister. The Pacific Northwest visitor has just returned to her home.

Mrs. Jane Remley of Whittier was houseguest of Mrs. William Schwartz over the weekend.

changed physical conditions, harmoniously adjusted, will accompany the spiritual awareness of the love of God for man.

Thus we are led into the consciousness of eternal harmony to which spiritual understanding is united through divine Science by the Principle which is God. The calm and exalted thought, which the textbook indicates is synonymous with spiritual apprehension, is at peace. What a peace this is in its spiritual significance! Sin conquered, sickness healed, God all, and man His expression! This is an ideal by no means impossible of attainment; and the "peace of God which passeth all understanding" accompanies every step of progress along the way. What a blessing to a confused and war-fearing world that this spiritual peace which Christian Scientists are striving after and attaining in some measure must now shed its healing light upon nations and men!

Just as spiritually-minded individuals are seeing it in increasing degree in their own consciousness, so will the world yet see the disappearance, not only of war, but of discord, sin, disease, inharmoniousness of every kind, as life is lived on the Christianly-scientific basis of spiritual understanding which means spiritual fulfillment. "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," declares the discoverer and founder of Christian Science (Science and Health, 494:10); and Christian Scientists understand her teaching to mean that the human need is to let divine Love displace the myth of mortal mind and be revealed in the majesty and power of its infinite goodness as the only Mind of man and the universe.

We have been almost two years now in Sierra Madre. Wish to thank all of you for your past and future patronage. We like it here. I know we haven't pleased every one. I believe in Sierra Madre and also believe most of you would rather trade with an independent store than a chain store, that is, if the prices are the same. We are starting a new policy of doing business. Please watch this paper for future ads. We can save you money and time.

TO OUR FRIENDS:

Elizabeth McElwain, former owner of Lizzie's Trail Inn, passed away January 2. But her name carries on. We are trying to show the same hospitality and good feeling towards everyone, as we have been doing while she was so sick. People are still delighted with our service, fried chicken and ravioli dinners. We would like to see her old friends. Won't you come up some evening?

Telephone 2472 for reservations.
